938.3	New Zealand Housing Foundation	Add following wording into Chapter G,G.2 Walkable Catchments plan text: The suitability of a walkable catchment can vary depending on a number of factors, including topography, connectivity and access to a regular public transport network. In some cases, there may be sites that are located outside a 'walkable catchment' that are suitable for additional intensification and building height. Such sites should be considered on their merits having regard to their context and their ability to provide additional housing choice in an area that is well served by a range of amenities, including public transport.
