1 Introduction

An Implementation Plan for I Am Auckland

I Am Auckland was adopted as Auckland Council's strategic action plan for children and young people in 2013, following significant consultation with the region's children and young people.

The I Am Auckland Status Report 2017 showed a wide range of children and youth focused activities undertaken or supported by council and council-controlled organisations (CCOs).

In 2017 the Environment and Community Committee approved the development of an Implementation Plan for I Am Auckland, to enable council to continue to monitor delivery of such activities and align them with the goals of the plan.

2 The vision of I Am Auckland

A plan for Auckland's children and young people

I Am Auckland was developed from the feedback of over 6,000 of Auckland's children and young people, and outlines Auckland Council's commitment to deliver on the aspirations they shared with us.

Through its seven goals, it sets out what council will do to make a positive change in the lives of children and young people. This implementation plan progresses that aim by setting out the specific actions and responsibilities the Council and CCO's (council whānau) will undertake to deliver on the goals of I Am Auckland.

3 Strategic alignment

How I Am Auckland fits with Auckland Council's other strategic priorities

I Am Auckland is Auckland Council's region-wide strategic action plan for children and young people. It is the 'sister' strategy to the Thriving Communities Action Plan Ngā Hapori Momoho, which sets out council's key objectives around community and social development. The two action plans have similar intentions, philosophies, goals, and specifically focus on those Aucklanders most in need.

Both plans align with, and contribute to, the Auckland Plan 2050 outcomes of: Belonging and Participation, Māori Identity and Wellbeing, Homes and Places, Transport and Access, Environment and Cultural Heritage, and Opportunity and Prosperity.

4 Why develop an implementation plan for I Am Auckland?

The 2017 Status Report demonstrated that Auckland Council is delivering a wide range of activities for children and young people. To date no formal plan for the implementation of I Am Auckland has been developed to pull together and provide oversight of all the programmes and initiatives that the council and CCOs are undertaking.

This implementation plan will assist the council whānau to develop, refine and focus its activity, while noting that there is existing good activity in this space.

The key advantage of an implementation plan is the increased visibility, prominence and accountability for child and youth outcomes throughout the council whānau. Done well, this will create enhanced buy-in and an incremental culture shift toward more effective, more focused activities. This in turn will help to embed best practice methods in the organisation.

To assess the impact our activities are having on Auckland's children and young people, the I Am Auckland Evaluation Framework has been developed, which accompanies this plan.

5 What successful implementation will look like

Intentionally delivering to I Am Auckland

The Implementation Plan will help the council whānau to think intentionally about the ways in which our activity contributes to achieving the goals of I Am Auckland and ensure that our child and youth-focused activity is clearly aligned with the goals of the plan. This will ensure that our delivery is consistent across the goals and will assist us to identify and address any gaps or opportunities for further delivery in the future.

Delivering across all seven goals

The I Am Auckland Status Report 2017 identified that although there was a wide range of activity taking place across the council whānau, some goals of I Am Auckland were being delivered more than others. For example, goal 4 'Fair Go' and goal 6 'Opportunity' were highly delivered on, while goal 3 'Health and Wellbeing' and goal 7 'Whakapuawai' were identified as less of a focus.

This Implementation Plan will assist the council whānau to continue and refine its existing good work, while also enabling us to develop new actions, particularly in areas where we may need to do more.

Contributing to Auckland Plan outcomes

In the Implementation Plan, activities have also been mapped against the relevant Auckland Plan 2050 outcomes, directions and focus areas. This allows a clear line of sight between the activities, the goals of I Am Auckland, and the overarching outcomes of the Auckland Plan.

It also enables us to link activities with the I Am Auckland Evaluation Framework and its measures, which are based on the Auckland Plan measures. Figure 3 shows the relationship between these plans and frameworks.

6 Implementation process

The proposed implementation process and respective roles and responsibilities are set out in Figure 4 below.

7 Measuring and monitoring

An Evaluation Framework for I Am Auckland

An Evaluation Framework for I Am Auckland has been developed to sit alongside this Implementation Plan. The framework consists of a number of measures to evaluate the ongoing effectiveness of I Am Auckland.

These measures are linked to the seven goals of I Am Auckland and to the measures in the Auckland Plan 2050. The high-level framework is outlined in Figure 5 below.

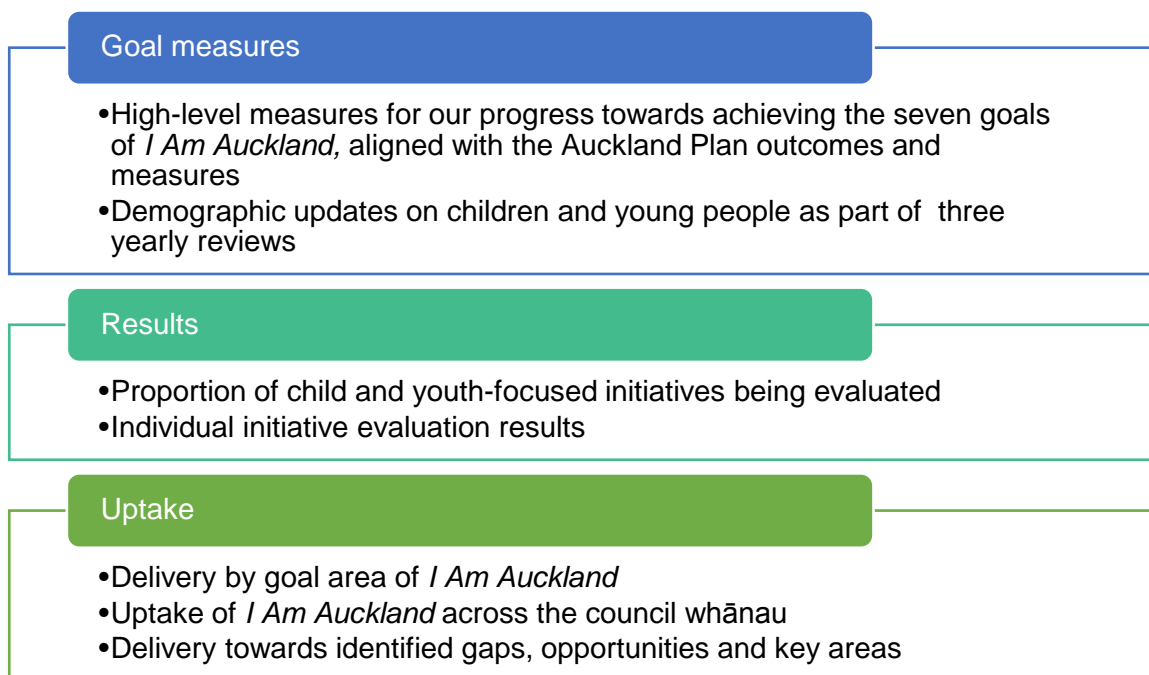

Figure 5: I Am Auckland Evaluation Framework

As set out in the implementation structure, an annual monitoring report will be developed and submitted to the Governing Body. This will summarise the status and implementation of actions, as well as snapshots of any individual evaluations completed during the year.

8 Annual reporting cycle and review process

Regular annual monitoring of the implementation plan and the associated evaluation framework will be conducted, and this will be reported annually to the Governing Body, as sponsor for I Am Auckland.

The I Am Auckland Implementation Plan will be reviewed every three years as part of the regular I Am Auckland Status Report. The next review is in 2020 and will be reported to the Governing Body in 2021.

9 Three-year Implementation Plan (2018-2020)

The I Am Auckland Implementation Plan builds on the 2017 Status Report of child and youth focused activities, programmes and initiatives. It includes activities and projects across Auckland Council and CCOs that are underway, any new activities and those that are currently in the planning process.

Activities are shown under their respective I am Auckland Goals and action areas. Lead units and partners are identified, as well as how the activity links back to Auckland Plan goals.

The Implementation Plan will be subject to annual monitoring and will form part of a three-yearly I Am Auckland Status Report. The annual monitoring will allow us to regularly update the Implementation Plan with additional new or planned activities.

Over time, with increased leadership and oversight, as well as greater monitoring and evaluation, we will see more alignment in our delivery with the goals of I Am Auckland, and improved focus on areas where limited delivery has taken place to date.

10 Summary

A commitment to deliver for Auckland's children and young people

This implementation plan sets out Auckland Council and CCO's commitments to Auckland's children and young people. It presents the steps that will be taken to deliver on the goals of I Am Auckland, and to do so in a way that focuses on where we can have the greatest impact.

Our delivery on this commitment will be assessed by the I Am Auckland Evaluation Framework, which will enable us to identify gaps and opportunities for further implementation. Together, these documents will ensure that the voices of Auckland's children and young people, as expressed in the goals of I Am Auckland, are reflected in everything we do for young Aucklanders.
